NEWSLETS

The Chief Secretary has decided to meet as frequently as possible all Toronto Officers and wives, including Headquarters, Men's and Women's Social, Toronto and Training College Divisions, and the Training Staff. These Councils will be held always on Tuesdays, and the first will take place on Tuesday, October 6th, which will be the occasion of the welcome to Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Smolton. This will be followed by another Council on Tuesday, October 13th, when Major and Mrs. Southall will farewell for Montreal. Thereafter they will be held fortnightly.

The Chief Secretary will conduct the welcome of Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Smolton at Lisgar Street (Toronto) on Thursday, October 8th. The Chief Secretary delivered his first lecture to the Cadets on Tuesday morning. They number eighty-five all told. Their looks betoken capacity and intelligence, and their demeanour showed intense earnestness. The Chief Secretary was greatly pleased with them.

Lieut.-Colonel R. Hargrave, the Young People's Secretary, will tour the Hamilton Division, commencing on October 17th.

Major Barr conducted the proceedings at the opening of Inverness, Cape Breton. The new Corps has had a good start, and Captain Murray and Lieutenant Ellis are in charge.

Staff-Captain McAmmond and Adjutant Turner recently attended a meeting of the Toronto Ministerial Relief Committee, where schemes for the relief of the poor during the coming winter were discussed.

The following par is from the Peterboro "Times": "Adjutant McElheney, of the Salvation Army, who is Chaplain of the local fire brigade, clad in helmet and freeman's uniform, attended the last Ward fire yesterday afternoon. The Adjutant is a practical working member of the 'Church Militant,' whether fighting fire, frivolity, or fundamentalism."

Adjutant Sheard has arrived in Halifax to take over his new duties as Superintendent of the Men's Social Work in that city, full of enthusiasm and anxious to make the most of the opportunity before him.

Adjutant Haskirk, Superintendent of the Men's Social Work in Vancouver, paid a visit to Victoria, where he had an interview with Premier McBrice.

Captain Dwyer, of Newfoundland, and Lieutenant Knight, of the London Division, have, we regret to hear, been obliged to go on furlough on account of ill-health.

Captain Van der Ven, of the Immigration Department, Territorial Headquarters, is shortly being transferred to the United States as a Field Officer.

Major Fraser will represent the Salvation Army in Canada at the forthcoming Prison Congress in St. Paul, Minn.

Sergeant Edward and Mrs. Dwyer, of Winterton, Nfld., wish to thank all those who have written letters of sympathy in connection with the loss of their son Fred in the S.S. "Titanic."

ALL MY LIFE

Tunes—Anything for Jesus, 206;

Song Book, 396.

Jesus, precious Saviour, Thou hast saved my soul,

From sin's foul corruption made me fully whole;

Every hour I'll serve Thee, whatever may befall,

Till in heaven I crown Thee King and Lord of all.

Chorus.

All my heart I give Thee,

Day by day, come what may,

All my life I give Thee,

Dying men to save.

From the lowly manger I will follow Thee,

In the desert and the stony wear

Thee I will be;

When the sufferings of the cross I will gladly bear,

If with Thee in heaven I'm a crown may wear.

THE HARVEST IS PASSING

Tunes—The old grove, 200;—Oh, turn ye 109; Song Book—18.

Hark, sister! while God from on high doth enlure thee,

And warnings with accents of mercy do blend;

Give ear to His voice, lest in judgment He meet thee;

The harvest, is passing, the summer will end.

How oft of thy danger and guilt He hath told thee!

How oft still the message of mercy doth send!

Haste, haste, while He waits in His arms to enfold thee;

The harvest is passing, the summer will end.

My sin-stick soul was tossed;

Now I'm in the harbor.

My tears and troubles long,

I'm glad I've cast my anchor.

THE BLOOD OF THE LAMB

General William Booth

II.—ON DIVINE GOVERNMENT—OBJECTS OF CHRIST'S DEATH—HOW DOES IT AFFECT YOU?

In my last message I dwelt on the all-important truth, that the sacrifice offered by Jesus Christ on the Cross has made it possible for God to deliver men from the guilt, power, and consequences of their sin.

This morning I want to consider the subject a little more carefully and to again invite you to seek with all your hearts the enjoyment of all the blessings provided for you by this manifestation of the Father's love.

First Principles.

In order to make myself better understood I will again ask you to consider some of the first principles of the doctrine of the sacrifice of Jesus Christ.

I. And first I would remind you that we are all the subjects of the Divine Government. That is, we are all under the rule of Jehovah, our Sovereign Lord.

1. Just as earthly governments impose laws for the well-being of their people, and the maintenance of order, so God rules His subjects by the employment of certain laws.

2. To maintain respect for these laws, certain penalties are imposed upon those who break them. Laws that have no penalties would not be laws at all. They would be neither more nor less than so much good advice, and little or no notice would be taken of them by those for whose benefit they had been made.

3. As you will know, men have broken these laws, and thereby exposed themselves to the penalty due to their transgression. That penalty is "everlasting death."

II. Now the object of God in giving His Son to die for the world was—

1. To save men from the terrible punishment to which they had exposed themselves by their sins.

2. To bring them into lives of goodness, obedience, and service, and finally to lead them to Heaven.

3. To grant the compassion of His own heart by saving a world of sinners, who, to meet the demands of justice, have been compelled to suffer the punishment attached to the law they had broken.

Three Objects Gained.

III. By the sacrifice of Christ, each of the following three objects was gained:—

1. On the one hand God shows to all the inhabitants of Heaven, and Earth, and Hell, the importance of obeying the laws He has made, and the awful results of breaking them.

2. It enabled Him also to pardon, sweetly, and take to His bosom all who have repented of their sins, returned to lives of obedience, accepted His mercy, and believed in His Son.

3. And further it revealed, as nothing else could have done, the depth of the pity and mercy, and love of His heart towards men by thus opening a wonderful way for their salvation.

All-important Subject.

IV. Here are you, my Comrades, on this all-important subject? What is your experience respecting it?

Jesus died for your sins; to open a way for your reconciliation with the Father, and make it possible for you to lead a holy life, and reach Heaven at last.

When King Charles I. was beheaded on the scaffold; it is said that the people, regarding him as a martyr, dipped their handkerchiefs in his blood, and preserved them as mementoes of his death.

If I could have been present on Calvary and dipped my handkerchief in Christ's Precious Blood and sent it to you as a memento of His dying love, what would you have said?

I cannot do that, but I send you afresh the assurance that the Fountain which was unscaled nearly two thousand years ago, is still open. If you have not already washed your hearts from the record of every sin, and every evil disposition, I will give you to do so this morning, singing with the poet:—

Now I have found the ground wherein

Sure my soul's anchor may be main:

The wounds of Jesus for my sin, Before the world's foundation slain:

Whose mercy shall unshaken stay When Heaven and Earth are all away.

O Love, thou bottomless abyss,

My sins are swallowed up in Thee:

Covered is my unrighteousness.

Nor spot of guilt remains on me,

White Jesus' Blood through earth and skies,

Free, boundless mercy cries.

By faith I plunge me in this sea:

Here is my home, my joy, my rest:

Higher when Hell assails, I flee:

I look into my Saviour's breast,

Away, sad doubt and anxious fear,

Mercy is all that's written there.

Oh, will you not at once wash and be clean? WILLIAM BOOTH.

their developing properly. I felt my father's eyes on me, and after vainly endeavouring to control the quivering of my lips, burst into tears.

I had not been truthful in action—the overworked little bean plants were the silent witnesses, and I remember with what force the text came to my mind:—

"Be sure your sin will find you out!"—British "Young Soldier."

SOME FINE CAPTURES.

Captain Explains What Has Become of Them.

"Among the couriers at Pietermaritzburg I Corps," says "The Times" of Natal, of a recent date, "we find that some of them have occupied important spheres of usefulness. One was a captain in an Imperial regiment, another a chemist, another was studying for the Roman Catholic priesthood for seven years."

It further remarks that in an interesting conversation which recently took place between The Army Captain and the "Sub-Dean" of the city, in which the "Sub-Dean" had been making inquiries as to what had become of certain apparently respectable men who had fallen through drink, the Captain was able to inform him that not only did they abstain from the drink, but had so far redeemed the past by God's help as to be now eligible to be placed on the Recruiter's Roll of The Salvation Army—South African "Cry."

FATAL FUN.

Yet There Are Others Who Are Made Foolish.

"Some men have curious ideas of 'fun,' as may be seen from a recent sad happening in a European city. A group of workmen were standing looking at a broken electric wire, when one of them proposed that they should "amuse themselves with electric shocks." They joined hands, and one of them seized an end of the broken wire, which came in contact with one of the live wires overhead. Five of the men were killed on the spot. It was fatal fun!

Yet even that is surpassed by the folly of those who tamper with sin, however "amusing" the pastime may be at first—"Under the Colours."

A BRAVE SCOUT.

Saves Little Girl from Drowning.

A little girl of three and her brother, who is a trifle older, were playing with a toy yacht off the sea wall at Gravesend. The tiny craft drifted out to sea, and the baby girl in reaching after it overbalanced and fell into the water. At that very moment Scout William Pennell, aged twelve, passed on his way to the weekly practice, and seeing the child struggling in the water, dived in, clothes and all, and fetched her out. Hanging her over to the care of some one near he made no more ado, but went straight home, and only very close questioning by his mother about his wet clothes extracted from him his story—"Life-Saving Scout."

GIFT OF APPLES.

Salvation Army to Distribute Two Hundred Barrels Among the Poor of Toronto.

The Oakville Fruit-Growers' Association has generously offered through Mayor Hocken of Toronto, a large quantity of apples to The Salvation Army. The Chief Secretary has notified the Mayor that The Army could accept two hundred barrels of the apples. These will be distributed freely among the poor of the city.

THE WAR RELIEF FUND

$50,000 Wanted to Help Those in Need Who Have no Claim on the Patriotic Funds

A WORD TO SALVATIONISTS! At the time of writing troops from Canada—over 30,000 of them—are hurrying full steam ahead across the Atlantic. The Dominion has also given a million bushels of flour to the Homeland, and millions of dollars have been subscribed by Canadians for the maintenance of the wives and families of the fighting men. Why? Because their King and Homeland were in need, were experiencing a time of fiery trial; so Canadians, whether British born, German born, or native born, rallied to the help of King and Empire in a manner that has compelled admiration all round the world.

Salvationists! Our General is in need. Our helpless kith and kin in the Old Land are in distress! God's Kingdom requires our help! Do not withhold it, but act in such a way that our comrades who fight under the Blood and Fire Flag, right round the whole world, shall behold with admiration and gratitude how Canadian Salvationists rally to the aid of the General in his hour of distress! Officers are asked to give a week's salary, and every Soldier to give a dollar or more—and give it now. "He gives twice who gives quickly."

Reasons Why Canada Should Send $25,000 to The General

2.—This Sum will keep open, for 12 months, the Doors of all Homes for Aged Poor, for Homeless Children, and the Hospitals for Poor Sick—which otherwise may be closed.

REFERRING to the inmates of The Army's Institutions, The General recently said:—

"CAN I TURN THEM OUT? OUGHT I TO DO SO? IT SEEMS UNTHINKABLE, AND YET IT MUST BE INEVITABLE, FOR OUR ORDINARY INCOME AT HEADQUARTERS HAS ALMOST CEASED! TRULY, I AM IN A STRAIT."

What would it mean if The General had to close the Institutions for men and women who are broken in the battle of life, and children who are helpless? This:—

FOUR THOUSAND MEN AND WOMEN, HANDICAPPED THROUGH FOLLY OR MISFORTUNE—NOW IN THE SOCIAL INSTITUTIONS AND CARED FOR BY THE ARMY—WOULD BE TURNED ADRIPT AT A TIME MORE DIFFICULT TO EARN ONE'S LIVING THAN THE OLDEST LIVING BRITISHER CAN REMEMBER.

Each of these four thousand cost a little more than they are able to earn. These lites added together amount to about $2,000 a week.

In addition to these men and women, The Army has a number of Eventide Homes, in which friendless old people spend their last days in reasonable comfort. What would become of them if these Homes were closed? They cannot earn anything.

There are Children's Homes, in which are sheltered children of tender age who have been taken out of the most painful surroundings and the most distressing conditions. They are now being trained up to live good, useful lives. Where would they go, and what would become of them, if these Homes were closed?

Then there are Hospitals for the sick—Institutions that have been visited and most highly commended by Queen Mary for the benevolent and useful work accomplished in them. Where would the sick go at these times when hospitals and all kinds of institutions are commended for hospital use for the valiant heroes who have been wounded in the service of their country? The maintenance of the Homes and Hospitals cost at least five hundred dollars a week.

ARE THE INDUSTRIAL HOMES FOR HOMELESS MEN AND WOMEN; THE EVENTIDE HOMES FOR HOMELESS AGED; THE HOMES FOR WORSE THAN-HOMELESS CHILDREN, AND HOSPITALS FOR THE SICK POOR, TO BE CLOSED FOR WANT OF FUNDS TO SUPPORT THEM?

That is the problem which is pressing upon the heart and brain of our beloved General at this time.

THE GENERAL—GOD BLESS HIM!
"Truly, I am in a strait."

It is obvious that if no money can be provided for the maintenance of these the nation's unfortunates, the doors must be closed. They cannot be permitted to remain in these Institutions to starve to death. But Salvationists in the Land of the Maple Leaf will do their best to prevent such a dreadful calamity happening.

Officers and Soldiers, let us rally to The General's aid. Every Officer is asked to give a week's salary and every Soldier—who cannot afford more—to give a dollar. Let us do it at once.

If we can send The General $25,000, this will enable him to keep the Homes for the aged and the children, also the Hospitals for the poor sick, open for a year. By that time let us hope and pray that the guns of war will have ceased to roar and peace and plenty will reign.

Through the United Kingdom accommodation for 2,000 women and girls is provided in the sixty-two Rescue Homes and Institutions. During nine months of the past year, 2,877 women and girls were dealt with in these Homes. Of these, 2,597 have entered upon an altogether new life. Shall this work be stopped on account of money to carry it on? The General is in sore straits.

There are 30 Shelters and 22 Elevators; 1,834 men broken in the battle of life are working in the latter. The Shelters have accommodation for 7,727 men. This branch of work also includes the Land Colony, and a Home for homeless boys. Out of 1,792 last year, 695 were placed in situations, 473 restored to friends, 19 enlisted in the army and navy, 224 were sent to other Institutions. Are the doors of these Institutions to be closed?

Please remember that one of The General's anxieties is to keep the men and women who are in our Homes at work. A minister, writing an article in a religious paper during the last few days, says with respect to this branch of our operations:—

"The Salvation Army is more than a great evangelizing agency. It is a great employer of labour. Do my readers realize that more than 4,000 workers are employed in the various Homes? I do not mean Christian workers, but ordinary manual workers, recruited from the public-house, the Embankment, the roadside. I have been over the Homes and seen the work for myself, and truly it fills me with amazement and thankfulness. Such work can only be maintained if help is received from friends outside The Army, to meet the difference between the actual cost of the workers and their earnings."

THESE ARE WISE AND HELPFUL WORDS. IT WOULD BE TRYING INDEED TO HAVE TO CLOSE ANY DOORS AGAINST THE POOR AND NEEDY; BUT THEY CANNOT BE KEPT OPEN UNLESS FINANCIAL AID MAKES IT POSSIBLE. OFFICERS AND SOLDIERS, YOUR GIFTS WILL HELP TO MAKE IT POSSIBLE.

Soldiers' "Farewell"

IRRIGING EXPERIENCES IN THE REGENT HALL DISTRICT

REGENT HALL BAND, in collecting for the Prince of Wales' Fund, met with some stirring experiences between 8.30 and 11 P.M. After playing for an hour to a large crowd of civilians and soldiers at Oxford Circus, during which time all the National Anthems of the allied countries concerned in the war were called for, including the "Marsellaise" (three times), the Band proceeded to the large new premises of the Y.M.C.A. off Tottenham Court Road, where-in was quartered a regiment of the Royal Fusiliers leaving for Malta that night. As the Band approached playing the "Marsellaise," the huge crowd congregated in the street, and the "Tomnies" on the balconies and roof and at all the windows gave it a tremendous reception.

Wheeling round in front of the main entrance as quickly as the loud-sounding blowing was finished, and many were the calls for the anthems of the different countries. Perhaps the most striking request was when a stalwart young private pushed his way through the ring, and in a broken voice told the Bandmaster that the soldiers inside were anxious that the Band should play "God be with you till we meet again." This was done, the whole concourse of civilians and soldiers joining in, many of the friends with tears streaming down their faces.—"Bandman, Songster, and Local Officer."

BE TRUTHFUL!

A Story About a Little Boy and Some Beans.

The following story, related by a clergyman, was sent by a little Welsh girl to illustrate her painting motto, "Be Truthful!"

One day my father gave me two pecks of beans, bidding me drop one in each of the holes he had prepared for them. When my task was done, he said, "I might go fishing, as I had arranged beforehand."

I started valiantly, putting in one at a time, as I had been told. But soon my back began to ache and a pain came in the calves of my legs. I saw I had a long job in front of me, so I began putting two or three in each hole, and then small handfuls.

Soon I had finished, and away I went, with never a thought of duty stirred.

But the day came when the beans had grown up.

"Dick," said my father, one day after dinner, "your beans have grown well. Let us go and have a look at them!"

I walked with him along the narrow cinder path. All at once he stopped opposite a big patch, where the seedlings were so crowded that there was not the slightest chance of their developing properly. I felt my father's eyes on me, and after vainly endeavouring to control the quivering of my lips, burst into tears.

I had not been truthful in action—the overworked little bean plants were the silent witnesses, and I remember with what force the text came to my mind:—

"Be sure your sin will find you out!"—British "Young Soldier."

SOME FINE CAPTURES.

Captain Explains What Has Become of Them.

"Among the couriers at Pietermaritzburg I Corps," says "The Times" of Natal, of a recent date, "we find that some of them have occupied important spheres of usefulness. One was a captain in an Imperial regiment, another a chemist, another was studying for the Roman Catholic priesthood for seven years."

It further remarks that in an interesting conversation which recently took place between The Army Captain and the "Sub-Dean" of the city, in which the "Sub-Dean" had been making inquiries as to what had become of certain apparently respectable men who had fallen through drink, the Captain was able to inform him that not only did they abstain from the drink, but had so far redeemed the past by God's help as to be now eligible to be placed on the Recruiter's Roll of The Salvation Army—South African "Cry."

FATAL FUN.

Yet There Are Others Who Are Made Foolish.

"Some men have curious ideas of 'fun,' as may be seen from a recent sad happening in a European city. A group of workmen were standing looking at a broken electric wire, when one of them proposed that they should "amuse themselves with electric shocks." They joined hands, and one of them seized an end of the broken wire, which came in contact with one of the live wires overhead. Five of the men were killed on the spot. It was fatal fun!

Yet even that is surpassed by the folly of those who tamper with sin, however "amusing" the pastime may be at first—"Under the Colours."

A BRAVE SCOUT.

Saves Little Girl from Drowning.

A little girl of three and her brother, who is a trifle older, were playing with a toy yacht off the sea wall at Gravesend. The tiny craft drifted out to sea, and the baby girl in reaching after it overbalanced and fell into the water. At that very moment Scout William Pennell, aged twelve, passed on his way to the weekly practice, and seeing the child struggling in the water, dived in, clothes and all, and fetched her out. Hanging her over to the care of some one near he made no more ado, but went straight home, and only very close questioning by his mother about his wet clothes extracted from him his story—"Life-Saving Scout."

GIFT OF APPLES.

Salvation Army to Distribute Two Hundred Barrels Among the Poor of Toronto.

The Oakville Fruit-Growers' Association has generously offered through Mayor Hocken of Toronto, a large quantity of apples to The Salvation Army. The Chief Secretary has notified the Mayor that The Army could accept two hundred barrels of the apples. These will be distributed freely among the poor of the city.

Important—Songster Leaders!

Here is an interesting glimpse at the contents of "The Musical Salvationist" for Sept.

The September issue of "The Musical Salvationist" is a very special one, and should be in the hands of every Songster Leader throughout Canada. Some fifteen of the songs that were sung by the various contingents at the I.C.C. appear in it, and, beyond doubt, it is one of the most interesting collections of International Army songs that have ever been issued. Many of them are the compositions of well-known Army musicians and poets, while in other cases splendid examples of national melodies are united to Army songs.

In Memoriam.

Admirably adapted for a memorial service is the song entitled "Fling Wide the Gates." It was composed by Commander Evangeline Booth in memory of her father, our late General. One of the verses is as follows:—

"Fling wide the gates, a life of warfare ended;
Fling wide the gates, a Soldier brave ascended;
Life's battle won, the cause of Christ defended.
More than conqueror through the power of God.
With a bound at trumpet's sound,
From his bond of clay winged his soul away;
Hear the crowned the anthem swell:
"Conqueror over death and hell."

Of a very different stamp is the song sung by the American coloured contingent, entitled "Roll Along Jordan." It created quite a furore in London. Though at first sight it may strike some as conical, yet there is a splendid lesson contained in it which is emphasized in the last verse, which runs as follows:—

"When trouble comes upon you,
Fried,
Comes down like rain;
Don't frown when it's coming down,
Comes down like rain."

To the tune of "O Canada," a splendid set of words has been supplied by Adjutant Collier. Try the chorus:—

"O Canada bright, O Canada fair;
Home of the ransomed, free from sin and care;

Thrice happy day when we thy joys shall share."

This song should become popular in the Dominion.

If you want a good novelty for an International Demonstration try the song of the Zulus entitled "Hear the Call." It is set to a genuine Zulu air.

A Talented Group.

The West Indian Songsters made a great hit at the Congress, and two of their songs are published, "Reign, Massa Jesus" and "The Gospel Train." The verse of the latter is arranged as a solo with humming accompaniment, with a chorus for all voices. It should take well at a Musical Festival.

A very warlike song is that from the Argentine Republic. It is a translation from the Spanish, and is entitled "Be Daring."

The Italians can always be depended on for splendid melodies and joyful news should make a fine effect.

The stirring tune of the Norwegian National Anthem has been joined to a well-known set of words composed by the late Commissioner Patton, and the combination is a good one. Sung by male voices in a broad, majestic manner, it will have a rousing effect.

A Swiss song with a yodel has a distinctly national ring about it. It is doubtful, however, if any Songster Brigade but a Swiss could do the yodelling in the proper manner. It is arranged, therefore, that this particular part may be played on a flute or violin.

A fine item for a full brigade is the song, "The Army of the Lord," as sung by our Dutch comrades. There is a martial ring about it which should make it go with a swing. This is the chorus:—
"Come, join the Army of the Lord,
March forward at our Captain's word;
We'll fight 'gainst all the foes of right,
We never will give in;
With Jesus ever leading on,
The battle we shall win."

A simple tune with a touch of sentiment in it is the Danish selection. The original words not bearing translation, a well-known set of words from the large Song-Book have been attached to the tune.

At The Crystal Palace.
At the great Musical Festival in the Crystal Palace the German Staff Band made quite a mark with their singing. The piece selected on that occasion was "The Musical Soldiers," a well-known song of a new one.

A distinctly Australian "Called to Service," and music being by an Australian Officer, an Australian Officer, goes with a swing, and "catch on," as it is taught to an audience.

"True and unflinching I'll stand;
Tight will I clasp my guiding hand;
Kindred and home as well as besides,
I'll gladly leave and my Saviour guide."

HON. SIR JOHN GIBSON,
Lieut.-Governor of Ontario.

He commanded his battery at the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

New Premier of Ontario.
Hon. William Howard Hearst, K.C., representative from Saul Ste. Marie, is the successor of Sir James Whitney as Prime Minister of Ontario. His advance in political life has been rapid, as it is only six years ago that he was first elected to the Provincial Parliament.

He is a native of Bruce County, Ontario. Choosing the bar as a profession, he became very prominent as a lawyer in the Soo, and on the withdrawal of Hon. Frank Cochrane from the portfolio of Lands, Forests, and Mines, Mr. Hearst was chosen as his successor. He was well qualified for this position on account of his intimate knowledge of the resources and problems of New Ontario.

He still retains this portfolio, in addition to being Premier, and will carry the dual burden till he finds a suitable man to succeed him.

Hon. Mr. Hearst is a member of the Methodist Church, and an ardent advocate of temperance. We congratulate him upon the new honour which has fallen to him and wish him a long, continued career of success in the service of the Province.

as one of The Army's stalwarts, a splendid trophy of the influence and power of The Army's work in that city. Before his conversion he was a very heavy drinker, but from the moment he joined the Army, Pentecostalism he commenced to lead a sober and Godly life, and he is now respected by all classes for his straightforwardness and his clean-cut Salvationism. His occupation is that of truckman, or expressman, and it is an indication of the influential position to which he has risen that he is President of the Truckmen's Union. He has established a splendid reputation for himself as an expert mover of household furniture and pianos. His success in business is due to his uprightness and honesty, and he does not forget the part The Army played in setting him on the right road to temporal as well as spiritual prosperity. The fondest ambition, therefore, of both himself and the partner of his joys and sorrows is that all their children should be Salvation Army Officers.

As they all show marked ability and are very successful in their school studies, besides being ardent Salvationists, there is every reason to hope that the ambition of this worthy pair will be realized.

Hon. Sir John Gibson.
Hon. Sir John Morrison Gibson, K.C.M.G., K.C., LL.D., the retiring Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, has on more than one occasion manifested in no uncertain manner his high regard for The Salvation Army. In his home city of Hamilton, when presiding at a meeting in the interests of the local Rescue Home in 1908, he said that it afforded him much pleasure to be chairman of such an assembly, as it gave him an opportunity of showing his sympathy with the work of The Army, and his more-than-ordinary sympathy with the work identified with the new Home.

His office as Lieut.-Governor brought him into closer touch with The Salvation Army than before. When The General visited Toronto in November, 1913, Sir John presided at the afternoon meeting in the Massey Hall. His warm words on that occasion cheered the hearts of Salvationists. He said in part: "The Salvation Army has to use an every-day business expression—made good. Many years ago in its initial stages in Canada, the people thought it was more or less a temporary thing; a movement which came, would dwell for a little while, and by-and-by pass away as a mere memory. In contrast to that early notion all will now admit that throughout the world, because it is a world-wide Army, there is no more potent influence for good; there is no more practical and active work in carrying out the mission given by Christ to this world."

Sympathy in Sorrow.
Sir John will also be remembered with gratitude for the great part he played in the Citizens' Memorial Fund to The Army's Founder, and also for the deep sympathy he manifested during The Army's sorrowful experience in connection with the Empress disaster.

For forty years or more Sir John has been connected with The Canadian militia, and now holds the rank of Honorary Colonel. At a recent public gathering he expressed his regret that he could not go to the front and serve his country as a soldier, but it was some consolation that he was able to send two sons.

ABOUT THE CADETS

A Few Interesting Facts Concerning The Present Session

REINFORCEMENTS

Our pages this week contain pictorial representation of the new Cadets who have recently come to the Training College for training in the practise of Salvation Army warfare. With their Sergeants, they number eighty-five, and but for the war there would have been considerably over a hundred. Some Candidates had to rejoin the colours as reservists; other through commercial depression were unable to come into Training this Session; nevertheless the Canadian Field has sent quite sufficient to show that the spirit of sacrifice, and zeal for the souls of others, pervade our ranks.

This is as it should be, for if our religion is as real to us as we profess then we should be prepared to make sacrifices for the Kingdom of God. Parents should be willing to sacrifice sons and daughters, and young men and women should be prepared to sacrifice position and prospects at the call of the great Captain of our Salvation. It is impossible to quote daily papers without finding examples of sacrifice on parts of parents, wives, and now men. "Go on with your recruiting, dad," wrote a wounded son to his father at Hamilton. He had been wounded at Mons, and his four brothers had been slain in the same battle, and in the letter he wrote informing his parents of their and his great loss, he exhorted his father to go on with his work of getting recruits to take their places. So far as we know the recruiting work of the sorrowing father is being maintained. King and country have been sufficient to cause hundreds of thousands of men of the British Empire to leave all to go to the most sanguinary and horrible war the world has ever known. They have gone to the war—as they consider—to save themselves and generations yet unborn from a domination more terrible to them than death.

The Kingdom of God calls loudly for men and women to devote themselves to the work of saving souls from the wrath to come; to rescue men and women from the clutches of him who has power to kill both body and soul. The present number of Cadets in Training afford great encouragement, but the War calls for more and more to augment the forces of righteousness and to take the places of those who are over-commin the strife. What about you, young reader, are you a Candidate? If not, apply to Candidates' Department at once and make use of the opportunity that God, by His grace, gives to you for accomplishing a good work in the way of soul-saving and extending the Kingdom of EVERY "batch" of new Cadets is an interesting study in personalities, and the Training College Staff have an arduous, though delightful, task each Session in getting acquainted with the lads and lassies who are under their care, studying their dispositions and characters, and guiding their feet into the ways of The Army.

A later glance over a few of the statistics concerning the present Session will serve to show how varied is the composition of the Cadets. Let us take first the geographical distribution of these young people. By far the greater proportion come from the Province of Ontario. The city of Toronto provides 23, the Hamilton Division 13, and the London Division 15. Quebec and the Maritime Provinces have sent eleven. Six of these are from Montreal, two from other, storekeeper, machinist, milkman, builder, collector, bookkeeper, cereal factory hand, letter-sorter, longshoreman, fisherman, driver, accountant, painter, blacksmith, elevator operator, oil refinery hand, shipper, trackman, barber, carpenter, and shoemaker.

But now they are all bent on the one business of soul-saving.

An analysis of what instruments they play reveals the fact that there is a great deal of musical talent in this Session. No fewer than twenty-four play a brass instrument of some sort—either cornet, trombone, tenor horn, baritone, or bass. Nine are able to play the piano and two the organ. Four are harpists and four can play the guitar. Other instruments which these talented young people play are the banjo, concertina, violin, and cello. They ought to be able to put up a splendid musical programme.

THE CADETS WHO HAVE BEEN ADMISSION TO THE TRAINING COLLEGE

the Halifax Division, and three from the St. John Division. From the North-West have come ten, and from the land beyond the Rockies seven have journeyed all the way to Toronto. The Island of Newfoundland is represented by a single Cadet. Grouping the Cadets now according to nationality, we find that forty are English and thirty-three Canadian. Two were born in the Emerald Isle, two in the Land of the Thistle, and one in mountainous little Wales.

It is interesting also to note the various ranks of the Cadets previous to entering Training. These are almost as diversified as the number of Cadets. Among the lassies domestic service and factory hands predominate—there being eight of the former and six of the latter. Two were stenographers, and two were chambermaids. Among the rest we find the following occupations: dress finisher, waitress, smock-maker, laundress, customs clerk, lodge keeper, telephone girl, and gold-printing worker.

The lads show even more variety in their trades or professions almost every one following something different. Two were steamers and three were store clerks, but there are no other two or three of the same occupation. Here is the list: Stock-keeper, furniture factor, hand, news collector, farm lab-

When it comes to languages they are all unacquainted with any but their mother tongue, except one lassie, and she can speak German. There are two married couples among the Cadets.

The total number of Cadets in the Training College is seventy-nine—this comprises thirty-seven lads and forty-two lassies. The six Sergeants bring the total up to eighty-five. This is splendid, considering the difficulties we are now face to face with, and is a good evidence of the Christlike spirit in the ranks of The Salvation Army in Canada, and speaks well for the energy of the Candidates' Department.

PERSONALIA

INTERNATIONAL

The General has been with important matters concerning the Army's world-wide operations. The financial emergency arising from the war causes him no anxiety.

The General is announced to be present at both of these gatherings.

It is hoped that Mrs. Booth will be present at both of these gatherings. The Chief of the Staff welcomed Commissioner Lamb on his arrival at International Headquarters recently, and immediately plunged into conference on Canadian affairs.

Colonel Kyle, who has held the position of National Young People's Secretary for the last seven years, has now farwelled at a number of centres, and with Mrs. Kyle will take a short furlough.

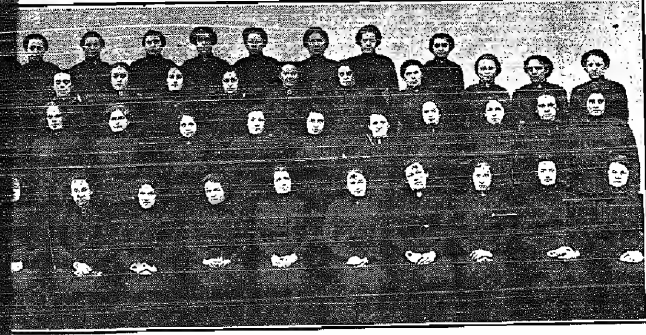

Lieut.-Colonel Herbert J. Jackson commenced his new duties as Chief Accountant to the Life Assurance Society on a recent Monday.

VE suffered very deeply during the last ten days on account of the atrocious and barbarous deeds reported from the war-torn countries. I did not regard horrible incidents described by newspapers in the early days of war as being worthy of credence.

I am not sure that even now, by very much attention to what information has come to my ears from men I know, and know to be incapable of untruth, which describes what is so dreadful in its nature, so entirely inhuman and Hearty, that my whole being has weighed down with horror. As General Sherman said during the Civil War in the United States: "Hell with the top off"—the war of all cruelties and woes. But it is waged against women and children and directed so as to give most shocking and dreadful injury to the helpless and innocent, it is more appalling still.

Let the two following letters just received speak for themselves in this connection. I quote them as samples of many others. The first is from a German Officer lately at the Berlin Headquarters, but now in charge of our Social Work in Cologne, and

TRAINING COLLEGE—GOD

But I do not for one moment believe that the German people would feel anything but burning indignation at the deeds of darkness to which I refer. Nay, the manner in which the general is being condemned by certain generals would, I am convinced, from their knowledge of thousands of Germans, both men and women, be utterly hateful and abominable in the judgment of the nation. How to bring the facts to the knowledge of the German people, of course, the great difficulty. But perhaps a way will be found. Pray that it may be so, and that God in His will will overrule even these agonizations to show the world what may be expected of the human heart when it abandons God and turns entirely to its own way. I say no more now, though I may return to this dreadful and important subject another day.

Do not let it be supposed that the war has stopped the patients work.

NOTES AND REFLECTIONS

By The General

for God and man! . . . We do pray daily that God may bless The General, who must be more than distressed, and The Army."

The other letter is from Paris. "On my dear Officers in France the burden is very great."

"The authorities of the City of Lyons have requisitioned our Hall and our Shelter there for the purpose of transforming these premises into a hospital. Having inspected the building they found it suitable. One of our friends, a lady doctor, whose husband is also a doctor, and is on the general staff of General Castelnau, will take charge of the hospital. . . . You will be interested to know that we got at once another Hall to continue our meetings. Staff-Captain De Jonghe found a Hall, quite close to our own, owned by a public-house keeper, whose public-house is in the same building. The publican is away on military service. When the Staff-Captain asked his wife on what terms she would let her Hall, she replied, 'You gave your Hall for the Red Cross I will give you my Hall for your meetings free of cost.' This is nice for a publican. We shall go forward."

I am still struggling with the anxious financial position created by the war. One of the causes of my present difficulties is to be found in the Moratorium. It has, no doubt, been very valuable to some people. To others, however, it has only added to the problem of the hour. One of our wealthy and most generous friends writes to me lamenting the fact that he cannot help us because he can neither get the use of his capital nor make the people who have it pay the dividends they owe him! Another friend, from whom I had hoped to receive at any rate a thousand pounds, says he can do nothing because the war has "tied up everything." It makes me very sad; but all the same, I do not intend that The Army shall be tied up. Its blessed work must go on in spite of these grave deficiencies and dangers.

I hope my dear friends and comrades will not suppose that I am not most truly grateful for small sums as well as for large. Much as the wealthy and generous-hearted rich have done for The Army, those who are by comparison poor and needy have done a great deal more. I can never forget that, 'I shall never want to forget it. It is just because I realize it that at this moment of exceptional strain my heart turns to those who can give smaller gifts quite as much as to those who have the ability to give more.

Many kind gifts of this kind have reached me during the past few days. Here are a couple of letters which show the delightful spirit which has prompted many of them. The first is from a very old friend—up to the measure of her powers I believe an unflinching friend—enclosed two pounds two shillings:—

"I feel I cannot resist your appeal, though it is not much I can do. I am a widow with very limited means, but a great lover of The Army. I have the satisfaction of knowing that we were the first to open our home for your people, over thirty years ago, in this town. These were precious times for us. The dear old General stayed with us when he came to present the Colours, and we had your dear mother four days."

"I am now in my seventy-fifth year—I take The War Cry, and it is a great stimulus to me. I am surprised at the ignorance of people today about your work, and I try on every occasion to make it known. It has brought so much blessing to my own life."

The second comes from one of the recent trophies of the work itself. It touched my heart exceedingly, and I believe the thought which prompted it is in many hearts at this time. It is from a Sergeant employed in the Anti-Social Work in a Provincial town:—

"Observing the very urgent appeal of The General for help at this crisis, I feel as though I must do my little part to help The Army in this time of sore trial and need, so I am enclosing you my passbook and an order for one pound, ten shillings, payable to The General. This is small, I know but it will help some. The Lord knows my heart. I bless The Army for what it has done for me."

One of my correspondents this week asks me to make known in 'The War Cry' that I do not receive—now that I have become General—any salary or allowances from The Army funds. I am glad to do so. The General of The Salvation Army, as Trustee for its property and funds, could not use any part of them for himself. It is, moreover, a great satisfaction both to Mrs. Booth and myself that in the good providence of God we do not need to take anything apart from our travelling expenses, from its already overburdened resources.

Slumber not in the tents of your fathers; the world is advancing, advance with it.

A SMASHING SUCCESS.

The Bowmanville Comrades Nearly Double Their Target.

On Sunday and Monday, Sept. 20th and 21st, we had our Harvest Festival meetings, which were well attended and financially successful. Everyone enjoyed the music of the Band, and say it is improving. Our sale of goods on Monday night brought us $24.12. Our target was sixty dollars, and we cleared $36.

The comrades helped splendidly. Everything seems to be booming under the leadership of Lieutenant Luxton and Lieutenant Stone, and the guiding hand of God.

The latest addition to the Band is a class A euphonium (Army mace). We are for victory for God and souls.—H. S.

On Thursday night we had a rousing open-air and a big march, headed by our Silver Band. Adjutant Hamilton led inside, and two men yielded themselves to God.

Adjutant Hamilton, assisted by Lieutenant E. Delmont, of Weyburn, led the meetings, and the Band supplied special music.

We had two large open-air at night, and big crowds on the march. The Citadel was crowded to its full capacity. After several short testimonies from the comrades, Adjutant Hamilton gave an address. The playing of the Cadets' Band was without doubt a source of comfort to the inmates of the hospital near by. Captain Spooner, the Cadets' Bandmaster, spoke in the morning.

The afternoon service was piloted by the Brigadier. A five-minute talk by Adjutant Cornish, and a short address by Captain Woolcott led to make a varied and interesting programme.

We have just been visited by Captain Van der Ven. The Captain, on Saturday night, dressed in Dutch costume, gave an illustrated lecture entitled "The Lowlands." The Hall was filled to the utmost, and many had to take seats on the platform.

While the lecture was in progress a number of the comrades held a prayer meeting in the Young People's Hall, and a young man was converted.

The meetings on Sunday were well attended, and the Captain's translations of well-known hymns drew a large crowd to the open-air meeting, and many foreigners attended the indoor service. A number of business and professional men were also present. At the close of the evening service a young woman came to the Mercy Seat.—N. S.

NEW FINANCIAL SECRETARY

Welcomed to Territorial Headquarters at Officers Meeting Conducted by Chief Secretary

At a meeting conducted by the Chief Secretary, in the Council Chamber at Territorial Headquarters, on Tuesday afternoon, October 6th, at which all the Headquarters Staff, as well as the Corps and Social Officers and the Training College Staff, were present, a welcome was given to Lieut-Colonel and Mrs. Smeeton.

Lieut-Colonel Chandler, Brigadiers Morris and Miller, and Major Jost were the speakers who voiced the feelings and sentiments of the Officers towards our newly-appointed Financial Secretary and his wife. Each had something to say regarding former associations with the Colonel, either in England or in Canada, and all were unanimous in praising his good qualities and his ability.

Colonel Gaskin also spoke highly of them, and expressed his confident belief that the Territory would benefit greatly through the appointment of the Colonel to such an important position.

Mrs. Smeeton gave a charming little talk, in the course of which she said that coming back to Toronto was just like coming home, for it was her birthplace, and also the place where she had been born again. There was twenty-seven years ago at the Lippincott Street Corps. She had come back to be of service, she said, and would do all in her power to help and bless her comrades and save souls.

Colonel Smeeton, who is known as a very fluent and able speaker, well sustained his reputation. He expressed his gratitude for the kind welcome accorded him, and said that he had come wholeheartedly to help uphold the reputation of the Canadian Headquarters. His highest ambition was to obey God, he said, and he entered on his new duties with the consciousness that God was with him. The Chief Secretary brought the gathering to a close with song and prayer.

A SUCCESSFUL TOUR

Brigadier McLean Says Good-Bye to the Comrades of the Alberta Province.

(By Wire.)

Swift Current, Sask., Oct. 6.—Brigadier McLean, accompanied by an exceptionally successful farewell tour of the Alberta Corps at Medicine Hat Monday night. Officers, Soldiers, and friends turned out in large numbers to wish the farewelling Divisional Commander God-speed. Great regret over the farewells was expressed by all.

The week-ends at Edmonton and Calgary Citadel Corps tell of particularly rich blessing and power. Seventeen souls for the tour. In spite of unfavourable weather, the crowds were good. Altogether, the whole tour has been very successful, but the work in some parts of Alberta at the present is very trying. However, all concerned are optimistic, and doing their best to keep the flag flying. Farewells, Sunny Alberta. Staff-Captain Peacock.

ARMY SONGS.

HOW WILL YOU DO?

Tunes—Jordan's flood, 94; Song Book, 121.
When you come to death's cold flood.

How will you do?
You who now neglect your God,
How will you do?
Death will be a solemn day,
When the soul is forced away,
It will be too late to pray,
How will you do?

You who laugh and scoff, and sneer,
When in Jordan you appear,
Can you then your terrors brave,
Say you have no soul to save,
When you sink beneath the wave.

You who have no more than form,
Can you brave the awful storm?
When the waves of death assail,
Every reed and pop will fail,
Forms will be of no avail.

COME, JESUS, LORD!

Tunes—Come, comrades, dear, 136.
He lives, 138; Song Book, 361.
Come, Jesus, Lord, with holy fire,
Come, and my quickened heart inspire.
Cleansed in Thy precious Blood;
Now to my soul Thyself reveal,
Thy mighty working on my soul,
Since I am born of God.

Let nothing now my heart divide,
Since with Thee I am crucified,
And live to God in Thee,
Ded to the world and all its toys,
Its idle pomp and fading joys,
Jesus, my glory be.

Me with a quenchless thirst inspire,
A longing, infinite desire,
And fill my craving heart,
Less than Thyself, Oh, do not give;
In night Thyself within me live;
Come, all Thou hast and art!

JESUS IS STRONG.

Why are you doubting and fearing?
Why are you still under sin?
Have you not found His grace doth abound?
He's mighty to save, let Him in?

Chorus.
Jesus is strong to deliver,
Mighty to save! mighty to save!
Jesus is strong to deliver,
Jesus is mighty to save!

You say, "I'm weak, I'm helpless,
I have tried again and again,
Well, this may be true,
But 'tis not what you do—
Thou He who's the Mighty to save, let Him in!"
